Ballot-Box Forgery.

The Investigation Committee Begins Its Work.

SEVERAL WITNESSES EXAMINED.

Representative Stuble, One of the Committee Absent on Account of Sickness. Representative Grosvenor Called on to Aid the Investigation in Examining Witnesses.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The select committee of the house to investigate the alleged ballot-box contract and the Cincinnati forgeries during the recent gubernatorial campaign in Ohio, began its sessions yesterday morning, with Mr. Mason, of Illinois, in the chair. Representative Struble, who is suffering from the grip, was the only member of the committee absent.

At the request of a number of those interested Representative Grosvenor was called on to aid the committee in examining witnesses.

It seems that all of the gentlemen concerned in the matters in hand desire to testify.

Representative McKinley, of Ohio, was the first witness. The chairman presented a report dated "Washington, July 2, 1888" (the forged ballot-box subscription list), and asked if the witness had ever seen the paper, and if the name "William McKinley, Jr.," signed to it, was his own signature. Mr. McKinley said he saw a paper, similar in appearance, for the first time about a month ago. Representative Butterworth showed it to him. The signature was not his own. He knew nothing about the matter except what had been in the newspapers, and never heard of the ballot-box bill until the last campaign.

Judge Justin Harmon, of Cincinnati, who was counsel for Governor Campbell on the ballot-box forgery case, was called next. He was shown the paper dated "Washington, July 2, 1888," and asked to tell all he knew about it. The witness had never seen the paper before. He said that James E. Murray had called on him after the forged paper appeared in a Cincinnati newspaper and said the paper was a forgery and had been got up in his office. He secured three affidavits that day. The next day he called on Murat Halstead at the office of The Commercial Gazette and demanded to see the paper. Mr. Halstead said the paper was in the Safe Deposit Company's vault, but he produced a photographic reproduction of it.

The witness told Mr. Halstead that the paper was a forgery, and the matter was allowed to rest for twenty-four hours. The next morning Mr. Halstead published his retraction in The Commercial Gazette. On the same morning he received a note from Mr. Halstead stating that he had become convinced that the paper was a forgery and he hoped that every effort would be made to probe the affair.

In answer to a question from Gen. Grosvenor, Judge Harmon said that as the names of those who were implicated in the ballot-box affair never had been brought forward he did not care to drag them out. At the time the forgery was discovered he purposely omitted the name of all except Governor Campbell from the affidavit which he showed to Mr. Halstead. In the interview with him Mr. Halstead said he had become suspicious regarding the paper on the afternoon of the day the forged paper appeared in his journal. He never ascertained where Mr. Halstead secured the forged paper. The forger, Wood, had claimed that the paper was got up merely as a scheme by which what is known as the "Topp letter," a document that might do damage to the Republican cause, could be traded for it.

Amor Smith, Jr., collector of customs at Cincinnati, said he first saw the paper at the Republican state headquarters at Columbus, and expressed his opinion at the time that the paper was not genuine. At the request of some of his friends he took the letter to Mr. Halstead, who seemed to think the paper genuine. He afterward ascertained that Mr. Halstead had seen the paper previously.

Ex-Governor Foraker was the next witness. The forged subscription list was shown to him. He said he had no personal knowledge who executed it. He asked to be allowed to tell his story from the beginning. On June 17, 1889, the morning after he was renominated for governor of Ohio, Louis M. Hadden, assistant city solicitor, called. There was some conversation about Mr. Campbell. Mr. Hadden said that if Mr. Campbell was nominated he would have the support of the leading Republicans of the state.

The witness asked him who they were, and Maj. Butterworth's name was mentioned among others. The witness expressed some surprise and Mr. Hadden in explanation said that Mr. Campbell was the author of the bill (the ballot-box bill) in which Maj. Butterworth and Maj. McKinley were interested financially. There were a number of people in the room and the conversation was hurried. Mr. Hadden promised to furnish him evidence proving Maj. Butterworth's connection with the matter. The witness produced a letter written to Mr. Hadden, telling him not to forget about the evidence, but no answer was received. He thought it his duty to the interests he represented to secure the evidence and make whatever use of it he saw fit.

Governor Foraker produced telegrams from Wood asking to be endorsed for smoke inspector at Cincinnati. These were his first communications with Wood. Wood called on him on his return to Columbus from New York. He had seen Wood but twice before that time. He knew nothing at the time derogatory to Wood's character. Wood asked to be endorsed for the position of smoke inspector. Governor Foraker told him that he thought he was fitted for the place. Then the witness asked Wood about the alleged ballot box contract. Wood manifested some confusion and said that there was a contract but that Powell Crossley had the papers in his possession. Wood said there was another and far more serious contract in which the same parties were implicated. This was the steel gun contract, as it had come to be known. Wood promised to get the papers from Mr. Crossley.

Representative Outhwaite, of Ohio, appeared before the committee at this stage of proceedings, and said that Governor Campbell had requested that his examination take place Jan. 27. This was agreed to, and as the hour of noon had arrived, and the members of the committee were desirous of being in the house, an adjournment was taken for the day.

IN A CRITICAL CONDITION.

Death and Sickness Stops Political Legislation in Ohio.

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 17.—The la grippe and pneumonia are fast decimating the Democratic majority in the legislature, and if a United States senator was now to be chosen it is doubtful which party would succeed. Hon. F. W. Knapp, of Defiance, died last week, and John B. Lawlor, a representative of this county, died yesterday. Judge Thomas Q. Ashburn, senator from the Brown-Clermont district, is very low at the American house, with the chances rather against his recovery, and Henry Brown, the Hancock representative, is not expected to live, both having the pneumonia, and, like the two deceased members, were taken first with the la grippe.

Ex-State Treasurer Howells, the Stark-Carroll district senator, is on the sick list, while half a dozen others are complaining of the influenza, and keep to their rooms. All political legislation is blocked, and will be until the epidemic passes away and new elections held. The situation is extremely critical, as in case of Judge Ashburn's death the lieutenant governorship contest may fall through. No such sickness was ever before known among Ohio legislators.

The wife of one of the Cleveland representatives has also died.

SPREADING RAILS.

An Accident on the Wyoming Division of the Union Pacific Railroad.

SALT LAKE CITY, Jan. 17.—An accident occurred on the Wyoming division of the Union Pacific yesterday, which might have resulted in a terrible loss of life had the train been running at full speed. The train was drawn by two engines, and had slackened up as it approached the east switch at Hampton, and was running about fifteen or twenty miles an hour. The engines, in passing over the switch, spread the switch rail and the express and baggage car and first coach were derailed and went over an embankment.

The following named persons were injured:

John Robinson, of Long Pine, Neb., shoulder and leg injured.
Dimengo Stringer, of Rock Springs, head bruised.

John McChale, of Indianapolis, leg broken.

Two children of Charles Wachenfitts, flesh wounds and cut about the face.
Mrs. Jamel Kranz, of Des Moines, chest bruised.

A. Pashinger, of Rock Springs, head and shoulders bruised.

Miss Abbie Coolidge, of Evanston, slightly cut.

Charles Tabin, of New Washington, O., leg hurt and hand sprained.
Z. H. Graham, of Ogden, neck bruised.
Conductor George McIntosh, slightly cut.

CONFIRMATIONS.

The Senate Takes Action on a Number of Nominations.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The following nominations have been confirmed by the senate:

Civil service commissioners—Theodore Roosevelt, of New York, and Hugh Thompson, of South Carolina.

Solicitor of internal revenue—Alphonse Hart, of Ohio.

United States judges—Augustus J. Ricks for the northern district of Ohio, and Alonzo J. Edgerton for South Dakota.

Chief justices of territorial supreme courts—James H. Beatty, of Idaho, and Willis VanDevanter, of Wyoming.

United States attorneys—William B. Sterling for the district of South Dakota, and Fremont Wood for the district of Idaho.

Also a number of postmasters and army and navy promotions.

W. C. T. U. Circular.

CHICAGO, Jan. 17.—The general officers of the Woman's Christian Temperance union have issued a circular extending greetings to "the non-seceding white ribbons of the Iowa Woman's Christian Temperance union," inviting all who are with the National in its policy of "No sectarianism in religion, no sectionalism in politics, no sex in citizenship, but each and all of us for prohibition by constitutional amendments, National and state, to hold meetings locally and pass resolutions to this effect."

Still After the Fighters.

JACKSON, Miss., Jan. 17.—The house of representatives yesterday appropriated $1,000 to pay the expenses of the state agent now in New York with requisitions for the abettors of the Sullivan fight, but adopted a resolution against putting the state to any further expense for bringing on parties, except in the case of the two principals in the fight.

Two Reports Presented.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Jan. 17.—The joint assembly of the two houses to try the gubernatorial contest, was formed yesterday. The majority report was presented. It gives Fleming a plurality of 236. The minority report was presented yesterday evening. It gives Goff 187 plurality. The committee then adjourned until Monday.

The Next World's Fair

Its Location Soon to Be Determined Upon.

THE QUESTION IN CONGRESS.

A Lively Discussion and Several Votes Taken Without Any Definite Result.

The Color Problem Again Brought Up in the Senate But Laid Over Without Action.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The time of the house was almost entirely taken up yesterday in discussing a resolution reported by Mr. McKinley from the committee on rules, providing for the appointment of a special world's fair committee of thirteen to report within three days a plan by which the house can determine the site of the proposed fair and subsequently to report a bill providing for the fair.

Mr. Cannon, of Illinois, as the minority of the committee on rules, reported a substitute resolution instructing the committee on foreign affairs to report to the house a method of selecting the locality of the world's fair; first, whether the fair shall be held east or west of the Allegheny mountains; and, second, the selection of the place for the location of the fair, and after the location has been decided by the house, that the committee report a bill providing for a world's fair in 1892, at the place selected by the house.

A long discussion followed, in which a score or more of representatives took part. Mr. Hitt, chairman of the foreign affairs committee favored the substitute, and said if the house would decide upon the site the committee could, within twenty-four hours, report a plan for the fair which would be satisfactory to the house.

Mr. Hatch, of Missouri, favored the majority resolution. He said that gentlemen representing competing cities had entered into a compact that a special committee should be created.

Mr. Frank, of Missouri, also strongly endorsed the majority resolution.

Mr. Springer, of Illinois, denied that there had been any compact between representatives of competing cities.

Mr. McCreary, of Kentucky, argued in favor of the foreign affairs committee retaining control of the subject.

Mr. Hooker, of Mississippi, thought a standing committee would be more impartial in the treatment of the subject.

Mr. Payne, of New York, advocated a special committee in order that the fair might be an honor to the country.

Mr. Flower, of New York, also favored the appointment of a select committee.

Mr. Hopkins, of Illinois, opposed the select committee.

Mr. Cummings, of New York, said all his state wanted was a fair, square deal, and no trickery, and that precedent required the reference of the matter to a special committee.

Mr. Mason, of Illinois, favored the retention of the fair bill by the committee on foreign affairs. He saw nothing in the special committee proposition but a decoy to get the friends of Chicago into ambush and then attack them by the combined forces of the other three aspiring cities.

Mr. Lodge, of Massachusetts, thought the adoption of the majority resolution would be a reflection on the foreign affairs committee. It would be a declaration that this committee could not be trusted to bring in an honest report.

Mr. Crisp criticized Mr. Cannon's proposition that the house vote on locating the fair east or west of the Allegheny mountains, as unfair to Washington and New York.

Mr. Cannon said the great contest for the location of the fair was between the Atlantic coast and the valley of the Mississippi, and it could be simplified by first deciding whether the fair should be held east or west of the Alleghenies. When congress met everybody recognized that there was scant time to prepare for the fair and everybody said, let there be a select committee, but for some reason the special committee never came.

Mr. Cannon then modified his resolution by striking out the clause requiring the vote to be taken on locating the fair east or west of the Alleghenies. A vote was taken on Mr. Cannon's substitute as modified, and it was defeated, yeas 140, nays 142.

Mr. Springer, rising to a question of privilege, said that he had kept a close tally of the vote, and his tally did not agree with the official tally. He asked for a recount. A recount reversed the former result, and the substitute was agreed to—yeas 137, nays 134.

Then much confusion ensued as to the next step to be taken in parliamentary proceeding. Many members contended that the next vote should be taken on the McKinley resolution, as amended by the substitution of the Cannon resolution, but the speaker held otherwise, and stated that the next vote was upon substituting the majority resolution, as amended, for the original resolution referred to the committee on rules. The vote was watched with intense interest, and when it was known, at the end of the roll call, that the resolution had been defeated by a tie vote, Mr. Springer, of Illinois, who had voted in affirmative, changed his vote to the negative in order to be able to move a reconsideration. The substitute was rejected—yeas, 133; nays, 135. Mr. Springer moved to reconsider and Mr. McKinley moved to lay that motion on the table, pending which the house at 4:50 adjourned.

Glad to Get Light Again.

MR. VERNON, O., Jan. 17.—The underground fire at the electric light station has not yet been extinguished, nor has the damage been repaired, but the lights are turned on again, greatly to the joy of the citizens, for whom one night of intense darkness was enough.

UNITED STATES SENATOR ALLISON

Unanimously Renominated by the Iowa Republican Caucus.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Jan. 17.—The Republican legislature caucus, called to nominate a candidate for United States senator, convened in the representative hall, at 8 o'clock yesterday evening, and was called to order by Senator Parrott, chairman of the joint committee, on whose motion Senator J. B. Harsh, of Union county, was elected chairman. Representative Chase, of Hamilton, was chosen secretary.

Senator Harsh briefly addressed the caucus, referring to Senator Allison as the peer of any American statesman, which brought hearty applause. On roll call all Republican members were found to be present except those reported on the sick list, from a number of whom dispatches were read asking to have their votes recorded for Allison. Senator Price and Representative Byers were appointed tellers.

The Hon. M. M. Walden, of Appanoose, in an eloquent speech recounting his services and eulogizing his high qualities, nominated Senator Allison to be his own successor. The nomination was seconded by Senator Woolson, of Henry. Representative Wilson, of Cass, spoke earnestly in the same vein. Senator Weidman, of Montgomery, a sturdy farmer, representing, as he said, the "hayseed" legislators, seconded the nomination of Allison, in which he not only voiced his own sentiment, but also the instructions of his constituents. Representative Ball, of Jefferson, and Senator Reinger, of Floyd, also made short speeches.

No other nominations being made, the roll was called, and the count of ballots showed that Allison had received seventy-eight votes and was the unanimous choice of his party in the legislature. The absentees voted by proxy.

Senator McVey and Representative Morrow were appointed a committee to invite Senator Allison to address the caucus. The senator, on being introduced, was greeted by an ovation of cheers, and spoke briefly, thanking the legislators for the cordial greeting, and said he had not words to express his appreciation of the honor conferred upon him by this unanimous vote. He pledged himself to serve the people of the state if elected with whatever measure of ability he possessed.

After adjournment the senator was greeted personally by every member, and hundreds of visitors present, and gave to each a vigorous grasp. The result was something of a surprise to the people who have been gossiping about a bolt and a possible combination with Democrats to defeat the senator. The unanimous vote of the caucus virtually eliminates the senatorial contest from the complicated situation, and clears the atmosphere.

JOHNSTOWN RELIEF.

The Flood Commission Transacts Some Important Business.

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 17.—The Johnstown flood relief commission met here yesterday, Governor Beaver presiding. The proceedings were in secret. After the meeting it was announced that arrangements had been perfected with the Girard Self Insurance Annuity and Trust company for the administration of an annuity fund, whereby the 302 children under 18 years of age, orphaned by the Conemaugh flood, will each receive $50 annually until they reach the age of 16. The sum appropriated for this purpose is $115,000. It was decided to appropriate $40,000 for the erection of a hospital at Johnstown, and $5,000 for hospital purposes in Williamsport.

The secretary's report showed that 116 women widowed by the flood had been paid $119,471, and they will be paid $85,250 more for their children in annual payments varying as to the number and ages of their children. The report estimates the number of persons drowned by the flood in the Conemaugh valley at 2,280; bodies recovered, 1,675; identified, 1,021; unidentified, 654; missing, 605. The unclaimed dead, numbering 741, were collected and buried in Grand View cemetery.

The financial report of the secretary is as follows: Amount received by Governor Beaver at Harrisburg, from all parts of the world, $1,225,872.88; received from the Philadelphia committee, $600,000; Pittsburg committee, $560,000; New York committee, $516,199.85. Total, $2,902,072.88. The expenditures have been as follows: Appropriated and expended at Johnstown, $2,430,303.69; expended in other parts of the state, $232,264.45; distributed as specially directed by donors, $2,271.85; office expenses at Harrisburg, $1,338.42; general expenses, $1,318.70; first payment to orphans, $16,100. Total, $2,683,747.11. Cash on hand at Harrisburg, $218,325.57; cash undistributed, deposited in Johnstown; $36,384.03. Total cash on deposit, $254,709.60; less amount appropriated to other parts of the state, $17,735.55; net amount unapplied, $236,974.05. From this should be deducted the amount appropriated, including $22,442.65, sundry claims ordered paid, $166,342.65, leaving an unexpended balance in the hands of the commission of $70,631.40.

Senatorial Talk.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—After the usual morning routine business the senate took up the bill introduced by Senator Butler, on Dec. 12, to provide for the emigration of persons of color from the southern states, and Mr. Butler made a long speech in support of the bill.

This was replied to by Senators Hoar and Blair in lengthy addresses.

The senate then proceeded to the consideration of executive business, and at 4:15 adjourned till Monday.

A Mysterious Death.

YORK, Pa., Jan. 17.—John Roehn, a mechanic, was found dead in his house yesterday with a bullet wound in his heart and his clothing burning, having been set afire by the powder. It is supposed that he committed suicide, but the rifle was found in an adjoining room, and the case is a mysterious one.

Cheaper Clothing.

"The joint in the armor of Protection is the tariff on wool," says the New York World, "and this was clearly illustrated at Thursday's hearing before the Ways and Means Committee. The woollen manufacturers and the wool-growers are pulling apart, and the Protectionists of the Ways and Means Committee were compelled to listen to two petitions at this hearing.

"One of them was signed by 500 people who are engaged in the business of manufacturing woollen goods, some of them as employers and others as operatives. They asked for free wool. The other petition was signed by 200 woollen makers, and asked for an ad valorem duty on wool which would be less than the existing mixed rates.

"There is no tariff tax so valuable as that on wool. It does not help the farmers. During the years when the tax on raw wool was highest the wool clip of the United States decreased from 150,000,000 pounds to 110,000,000.

"The reason for this decrease was that the tariff on wool was injurious to the woollen manufacturers. Manufacturers must have grades of wool which can not be produced in this country, but which, mixed with American wools, are essential to the production of certain kinds of cloth. When the foreign wools are prohibited by the tariff there is no demand for the American wools, and the consequence is that the farmers are forced out of the business of breeding sheep.

"With free wool we should have more sheep, more woollen manufacturers and cheaper goods, for free wool would be followed by reduced cost of production, and that would lead inevitably to reduced duties on woollens.

"Free wool is directly in the interest of the people, for it means cheaper clothing for everybody."

Wealthy Senators.

The Republican press is mightily disturbed at the suggestion that a rich Democrat should be sent to the Senate. Unmindful of the proverb, they commence with one accord to throw stones at Millionaire Brice. If they are sincere, let us inquire how it happens that their party has contributed all the moneybags to the Senate. Why did the Republicans of Illinois choose Charles B. Farwell as the successor of the great citizen-soldier? Teller of Colorado, one of their selections, is immensely rich, and riches secured his election. Eugene Hale of Maine is probably richer than Brice. Both the Michigan Senators, Stockbridge and McMillan, are Republicans whose millions secured them the Senatorial toga. Why does Philletus Sawyer represent Wisconsin and the lumber interest in the Senate of the United States? Is it because he had any learning or any reputation as a publicist? A tariff-made millionaire, his money, not his talent, procured him political recognition. J. Donald Cameron is the colleague of Matt S. Quay, the latter unscrupulously a politician, the former unlimitably rich. Is the Republican press of Pennsylvania to lecture the Democrats of Ohio upon their duty in the election of a Senator? John Sherman has thriven mightily upon a salary of $5,000 a year. He is probably a richer man than Brice, but he was re-elected and the Republican press did not deem it a duty to inveigh against rich candidates. It does not lie in the mouth of the Republicans who elected Farwell, Sawyer, Cameron and half a dozen other moneybags to cry out, in protest against Brice's selection.—Chicago Times.

W. L. DOUGLAS, the great shoe manufacturer of Brockton, Mass., has been elected Mayor of that city. In 1876 he began on a capital of $875, and now he does a business of more than $1,000,000 a year. He owes his success to the quality of shoes he makes and his extensive advertising. He pays more than $70,000 a year for advertising alone. His example is worthy of emulation. It shows what a determined man can do with a little capital. Think of it. A capital of $875 increasing in thirteen years to a business of more than $1,000,000 annually. Can't a W. L. Douglas be found here in Maysville?

The White & Ballard shoe factory at Washington, C. H., Ohio, was started a few years ago. Their business has grown and the number of their employees has, in consequence thereof, been increased until their pay roll now amounts to from $2,500 to $3,000 every week. That means over $100,000 in wages distributed among the employees every year, most of which sum goes to build up the trade of the city right along. An enterprise or two of that character here in Maysville would make things hum. And why can't we have something of the kind? Utilize part of the million dollars on deposit in the three banks of Maysville.

Railway News.

S. P. Scruggs now has full charge of the K. C.'s affairs at Johnson.

The C. & O.'s eastbound mixed train now passes here at 12:15—midnight.

President Ingalls, of the C. & O., passed east yesterday, bound for New York.

The gross earnings of the Cincinnati Southern for the year ending January 1 last shows an increase of $313,167, as compared with those for the preceding year. The figures for 1889 were $3,937,657.

The following is the showing made by the Chesapeake and Ohio Road for the year ending January 1 last. The figures are:

1889.....	$6,132,603
1888.....	5,113,929
Increase.....	$1,018,674

There has never been a passenger killed on the Cincinnati division of the C. and O., while carrying east from Cincinnati double the number of passengers of any road running East from there.—Exchange.

For the Farmer.

The estimated average price of beeves in New York during 1889 was $4.30; in 1888, $4.93.

Corn is now at the lowest price it has reached since 1862. In Chicago, new corn is 29c., New York, 39c.

A. H. Vansant, of Mercer, bought from different parties in that county, nearly 123,000 pounds of tobacco, mostly at 8 and 8½ cents.

G. H. Watson, of Calcutta, India, now in Chicago, says that during 1889 his firm shipped 25,000,000 grain and flour sacks to this country.

Elder Jos. C. Frank sold to John Burke, of Mason, his five 75 acre farm on Elizavillepike, three miles from Flemingsburg, for $75 per acre.

T. Pollock & Son, of Bloomington, Ill., formerly of Germantown, have purchased from J. B. Perry, of Lexington, Ky., for $1,000, a bay weanling colt by Eagle Bird, dam Carrie Wilkes, by Simmons.

More Complaints About the Mail Service.

THE demoralization in the mail service in this section—notably on the C. & O. line—is disgusting. When we fail to receive the Cincinnati dailies on the 12:25 p. m. train, and the train on time, it shows carelessness, if not incompetency, on the part of the postal clerks. If the retention of clerks of the former administration is the cause, let it be remedied at once by their dismissal. And if the re-appointment of fossils of former Republican administrations is the cause, as we rather suspect, fire them, and appoint some of the hundreds of competent young men who are in sympathy with the party in power and will so attend to the duties of their positions as to beget and merit the approval of the people, irrespective of party.—Greenup Gazette

The demoralization is just as great in this section and is not confined to any particular route. A letter sent from Germantown last Saturday reached the BULLETIN Tuesday afternoon. The BULLETIN does not get its Lexington and Louisville exchanges now until they are over a day old.

Brick Streets.

At Columbus, O., fire brick are used in paving the streets, and here is the way they are put down. After excavation has been made to a proper depth, broken limestone is scattered over it in such a way that after it is rolled with a ten or fifteen ton steam roller it will be six inches thick and of the same cross-section as the street when finished. After this is done a course of sand two to two and a half inches thick is put on to make a bed for brick or stone pavements. When the paving blocks are laid they are rammed down and the joints are filled with paving cement. This makes the entire pavement one homogeneous mass, firm, impervious to water, and in a sanitary view the best, doing away with filth and disease-breeding deposits that collect in the joints of pavements not cemented.

One of the Best on the Road.

The "Si Perkins" Company is said by the newspapers to be one of the best now on the road. It will appear at our opera house Saturday evening of this week. The Sherman (Texas) Register says:

"Si Perkins, of Paghtown," was at the opera house last evening with his excellent company, and as mirth provokers they are simply immense, and from the rise of the curtain in the first act until its drop in the last, there was one continued round of applause. The dance of the deacons, the district school scene, the great country fair, and all following each other in rapid succession, made an evening's enjoyment that would drive away the blues from an indigo factory. The music is fine and of a most "catchy" nature. The songs are excellent and the tropical production, "Nobody Knows," brought the house down in a storm. If "Si Perkins" should ever come back to Sherman, we predict that the house will not be sufficiently large to hold the crowd.

Star of Bethlehem.

Within a short time the Star of Bethlehem will be visible, making its seventh appearance since the birth of Christ. It comes once in 315 years, and is of wondrous brilliancy for the space of three weeks, then it wanes and disappears after seventeen months. It will be a sixth star added to the five fixed stars in constellation Cassiopeia while it remains in sight.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

hands of some hot-heads, and it looked like the affair would terminate in riot and bloodshed, but the prompt action of Marshal Hefflin soon quelled the tumult and order was at last restored.

Mr. Fitzgerald left the room on the advice of friends, and Mr. Wood, nothing daunted, resumed his remarks, stating he could not be bulldozed in that way. He finished his speech with a motion to table Mr. Fitzgerald's motion and refer the charge to the Police Committee for investigation.

This was done and the council then adjourned.

As a result of organized effort on the part of the business men of Portsmouth the city is filling up with a rapidly little dreamed of two years ago, says the Blade. Her old industries are prospering and many new ones have been successfully established. Maysville's business men might learn a profitable lesson from those at Portsmouth.

The assessed value of property at Ripley is $850,000. The town has a big debt, and complaints are made at the high rate of taxation. The Bee says: "Very soon the taxes will be 4 or 5 per cent., and money, investments and property will rapidly forsake the town." Let the "money, investments and property" be brought to Maysville. The rate of taxation here is only $1 on the $100.

ROW AND RUMPUS.

Sensational Scenes in the City Council at the Session Last Night.

Mr. Wood Uses the Word "Sneaking" in Reference to a Motion Made by Mr. Fitzgerald, and is Assaulted.

The adjourned meeting of the City Council last evening was lively throughout, and came near ending in a free-for-all, knock-down and drag-out fight. Pandemonium prevailed for several minutes, but the prompt action of Marshal Heflin and a few others quelled the disturbance and prevented bloodshed.

The scenes were highly sensational for a while. But to the details.

Ten members answered to the roll call—Messrs. Cox, Fitzgerald, Pearce, Shannon, Wood, Salisbury, Triplett, Fleming, Rudy and Pecor.

The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting was dispensed with.

The committee appointed at the previous meeting to settle accounts of the city officers—Mayor, Collector and Treasurer and Clerk—for year 1889 presented a report, showing that the duty had been attended to. They reported that the books had been neatly kept, and that only two small discrepancies were discovered. The report showed that the city had paid off $6,430 worth of coupons due on railroad bonds, scrip bonds and water bonds; that sixteen scrip bonds amounting to $8,000 had been paid, and that five notes for a total of $8,000 had also been paid during the year—the total paid off amounting to $22,480. The committee also reported that $164.10 was due Marshal Heflin for commission on the fines and old bonds collected by him during the year; that $578.50 was due Mayor Pearce, and $16 was due City Attorney Newell for costs worked out during the year. Orders had been drawn for the payment of said amounts.

The report was received and Messrs. Fitzgerald and Salisbury appointed a committee to examine and destroy the coupons, bonds and notes paid off. This was duly attended to.

E. E. Pearce, Jr., qualified as Mayor, with C. B. Pearce, Jr., and John Duley as sureties.

James Heflin qualified as Marshal. His sureties are George W. Childs, Wm. H. Power, J. A. Newell and Thomas A. Respass.

John Mangan qualified as a Deputy Marshal, with John Ryan, John C. Dinger, Sam T. Hickman and John G. Zweigart as sureties.

C. M. Bland qualified as Deputy Marshal, with Mose Daulton, J. L. Browning, W. H. Yancey, John M. Rains, T. A. Keith and Charles Bland as sureties.

James Downey qualified as Deputy Marshal, with John M. Hunt, T. J. Curley, Geo. L. Cox and H. Ficklin as sureties. Jos. H. Crawford qualified as a Deputy Marshal, with H. Ficklin, Martin Bros., C. P. Beckett and G. N. Crawford as sureties.

W. A. Stockdale qualified as a Deputy Marshal, with Thomas F. Moran and W. B. Mathews as sureties.

Mrs. John A. Mitchell presented her bond as Matron of the Alms House and qualified. Her sureties are Jacob Miller and George N. Crawford.

Wm. R. Davis presented his bond as Wood and Coal Inspector and qualified, with Wm. Davis as surety.

Mr. Fitzgerald voted against accepting the bonds of all the Deputy Marshals.

A. R. Pierce was granted a permit to erect a frame stable on rear of his lot on Limestone street.

The Committees on Internal Improvement and the Propositions and Grievances were appointed to confer with the authorities of Chester in reference to establishing some needed drainage.

The question of requiring all proprietors of coal scales to execute bonds for the faithful discharge of their duties was referred to Committee on Laws and Ordinances.

On motion of Mr. Fitzgerald, the Chair appointed Messrs. Wadsworth, Wood and Fitzgerald, City Attorney Newell and Mr. L. W. Robertson a committee to prepare a registration or election law for the city of Maysville.

On motion of Mr. Fitzgerald the Clerk was directed to have a detailed statement of the city debt published.

Mr. Fitzgerald offered an ordinance to repeal the ordinance adopted a month or so ago requiring all auctioneers to be residents of the city. Mr. Fitzgerald's ordinance was received, but a motion to suspend the rules and pass it failed to get the necessary two-thirds vote, and the matter went over till next meeting.

Mr. Fitzgerald also offered an ordinance to abolish the present system of night police and return to the old plan of a Marshal and two Deputies. The Chair ruled the ordinance out of order, on the ground that the police had already been elected for the present year. Mr.

Fitzgerald then read a statement showing that with a Marshal and five night police last year only $65 arrests were made to $56 arrests made by a Marshal and two Deputies the year before, the fines assessed by the Mayor in 1888 amounting to more than in 1889. Mr. Fitzgerald then asked that the order be enforced requiring all the night police to uniform themselves. He gave as his reason for this request that some of the police were going about the streets looking more like tramps than officers.

The Chair then announced the standing committees for this year. They are as follows, the member to be elected from Second ward to-morrow to fill the places left blank:

STANDING COMMITTEES.

Ways and Means—E. A. Robinson, J. I. Salisbury, Robert Ficklin, J. C. Pecor, C. B. Pearce, Jr., L. C. Blatterman, M. C. Russell, W. S. Frank, W. H. Cox, ex officio.

Public Health—E. W. Fitzgerald, P. G. Triplett, Conrad Rudy, Robert Ficklin, Dr. H. K. Adamson.

Education—W. H. Wadsworth, Jr., J. C. Pecor, T. M. Wood, Dr. Thos. R. Pickett, A. M. J. Cochran, W. H. Cox, ex officio.

Turnpikes and Railroads—Hugh F. Shannon, C. B. Pearce, Jr., L. C. Blatterman, Conrad Rudy, P. G. Triplett.

Public Buildings—J. C. Pecor, P. G. Triplett, L. C. Blatterman, Robt. Ficklin, E. W. Fitzgerald.

Laws and Ordinances—J. I. Salisbury, W. H. Wadsworth, Jr., Thos. M. Wood, C. B. Pearce, Jr., L. C. Blatterman.

Propositions and Grievances—L. C. Blatterman, Thomas M. Wood, J. I. Salisbury, C. B. Pearce, Jr., Conrad Rudy.

Police—C. B. Pearce, Jr., E. A. Robinson, W. H. Wadsworth, Jr., Robert Ficklin, J. I. Salisbury.

Gas—George C. Fleming, E. A. Robinson, Hugh F. Shannon, W. H. Wadsworth, Jr.

Fire Department—E. W. Fitzgerald, Hugh F. Shannon, George C. Fleming, Conrad Rudy.

License—Robert Ficklin, E. W. Fitzgerald, W. H. Wadsworth, Jr., George C. Fleming.

Internal Improvement—T. M. Wood, E. A. Robinson, J. I. Salisbury, J. C. Pecor, W. H. Cox.

Wharves and Ferries—P. G. Triplett, E. W. Fitzgerald, Hugh F. Shannon, George C. Fleming.

Mayor Pearce announced that he was ready to administer the oath of office to Coal Inspector Davis and Marshal Heflin, adding that he declined to swear in the new Deputy Marshals and wouldn't have anything to do with them.

Messrs. Heflin and Davis then took the oath of office, and on motion of Councilman Pearce the Deputy Marshals were directed to go before Squires Viceroy or Miller and be sworn in.

Council was on the point of adjourning when Mr. Fitzgerald arose, and addressing the chair, said he had a little item to read and then wished to make a motion. He read the following from the last issue of the Maysville Democrat:

A nigger went into Crawford & Short's blacksmith shop Thursday morning and having listened a few minutes to some remarks about the late city election, told the following story: "Last Sunday night about thirteen of us were up in Owen's row having a 'crap game.' After the game had been in progress for some time and when the table was full of money, one of the city Marshals walked into the room and told us to 'come on.' We thought we were gone sure, and all of us followed him out. He then took us over near the old K. C. depot, gave us a keg of beer and told us to go down to the Fourth ward polls early Monday morning and vote for him."

It is hardly necessary to add that these thirteen men were imported and had not been in Mason County more than two days.

He then moved that a committee be appointed to investigate the matter. Mr. Triplett seconded the motion. The Chair was about to put the motion to the house when Mr. Wood arose with the remark that he thought "this matter had gone far enough" and that "it was time for some one to say something." He said there was a Police Committee always ready to investigate any charges against the Deputy Marshals—was always prompt to act and referred to the Fisher case to bear him out in the statement. Mr. Fisher who was in the audience here interrupted Mr. Wood with the remark:

"You know well enough my discharge was a piece of spite work. I can prove that. I'm not mixed up in this case and I don't want my name run in."

Order having been restored, Mr. Wood continued that he was opposed to any underhand work, and wanted the charge made in a manly way and to the proper committee. He said no name was signed to the charge read and that Mr. Fitzgerald didn't even know who wrote it. Mr. Fitzgerald replied that he did know and that the editor of the Democrat wrote it.

"Well, I'm opposed to any one coming here with a charge in such a sneaking way," continued Mr. Wood.

The words were hardly uttered when Mr. Fitzgerald went at him, grabbed him by the collar and dealt him a heavy blow with his first on the left forehead, accompanying his action with the remark: "You can't call me a sneak," or "call me a sneak, will you?" Mr. Fitzgerald hit Wood two or three times before Marshal Heflin, Councilman Pearce and others got the combatants separated. The house was in an uproar, and there were cries from the audience of "give it to him," "hit him again," &c., &c. Pandemonium prevailed, the Chair was powerless, pistols were making their appearance in the Portugal and England.

Trouble May Yet Result Between the Two Countries.

ENGLAND LOSING HER PRESTIGE.

The Portuguese Compel the Hauling Down of a British Flag on an English Steamer and the Portuguese Colors Hoisted in Its Stead—Other Foreign Dispatches.

LONDON, Jan. 17.—A French captain named Trivier says that while aboard the British steamer Lady of Nyassa, on the Shire river, the Portuguese compelled the crew to haul down the English flag and hoist the Portuguese colors.

Trivier declares that the English have lost all prestige through their pacific policy. The natives ascribe the gentleness of the English to weakness, and think that Portugal is the stronger nation.

Famine Decimates the Soudan.
CAIRO, Jan. 17.—Authentic news has been received of terrible mortality among the natives in the Soudan, due to famine resulting from lack of rain during the autumn. The fighting forces have been dispersed. Osman Digna has left Omdurman for Tokar. Slatin Bey writes that the reports of the death of the Khalifa are untrue.

In Germany and Austria.
LONDON, Jan. 17.—The influenza is increasing in Westphalia. Work in the mines there is impeded by the ravages of the epidemic, and in many cases the running of freight trains has had to be suspended. The disease is decreasing in central and western Austria.

Beneficent Measure.
BRUSSELS, Jan. 17.—In the chamber of deputies M. Beernaert, minister of finance, as a memorial of King Leopold's jubilee, introduced a bill to devote 2,000,000 francs as a relief fund for the benefit of workmen who are injured while following their occupations.

Papal Encyclical.
ROME, Jan. 17.—The papal encyclical is published. It is a lengthy document. It insists upon the duty of Catholics to follow papal doctrines with absolute faith, and condemns those who profess Catholicism while discussing and criticizing acts of the church.

Charleroi Miners Out Again.
BRUSSELS, Jan. 17.—The trouble in the Charleroi district has broken out afresh. The miners became involved in a dispute as to the method of executing the concession granted them by the mine owners, and again went out on a strike.

Stanley Banqueted.
CAIRO, Jan. 17.—The khedive gave a banquet last night in honor of Henry M. Stanley. The khedive's ministers and a number of native officials were the only guests.

A CLOSE RACE.
Miss Bissland and Nellie Bly May Reach New York on the Same Day.

New York, Jan. 17.—The race around the globe between Miss Bissland and Nellie Bly promises to have a close and exciting finish. A cablegram was received yesterday evening at the office of The Cosmopolitan, stating that Miss Bissland had left Brudisi yesterday afternoon for Paris. She will probably take one of the trans-Atlantic steamers that sails Saturday, and she will be here eight days later.

Nellie Bly is due in San Francisco on the 23d of this month, and the four days' ride to New York will probably bring her here on the same day that Miss Bissland arrives. A few hours either way will probably decide the race.

Largest Crop of Corn Ever Grown.
NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—The most phenomenal yield of corn ever produced in America has been awarded the prize of $500 offered by The American Agriculturist for the largest crop of shelled corn grown on one acre in 1889. The crop was within a fraction of 355 bushels, green weight, which shrunk to 239 bushels when kiln dried, and when chemically dried, contained 217 bushels. The South Carolina state board of agriculture doubled the prize, making the award $1,000 in all. This crop was grown by J. Z. Drake, of Marlboro county, S. C. It is nearly twice as large as the greatest authenticated crop ever before reported.

Foiled With Electricity.
HARTFORD, Conn., Jan. 17.—Oscar Williams, employed at the Cushman chuck works, was killed Wednesday by an electric shock. The men in the factory have been in the habit of amusing themselves by touching electric light wires that run past the windows and receiving slight shocks. Wednesday Williams thus grasped the wires while leaning across a steam radiator. The current from the wires passed through his body to the radiator and killed him. The current was an alternating one of about 1,000 volts.

Must Go to Mississippi.
NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Recorder Smyth refused to bail William Harding, Jim Wakely, William Muldoon, Mike Donovan and Mike Cleary, the five men arrested as abettors in the Sullivan-Kilrain fight at Richburg, Miss. The recorder decided that a police justice had no power to take bail on a warrant for arrest on the requisition of a governor. Inspector Byrnes received the extradition papers for the whole party from Albany Wednesday morning.

Dead Body Found.

Ella Wasserman, who created a sensation several months ago by making a murderous assault on Mrs. Minnie Leeds, of Michigan City, Ind., died in the county jail at Laporte, Wednesday, of ulceration of the stomach. She was born of respectable parents near Maxwell, Iowa, but had been living under an assumed name. She was a wayward girl.

A MOTHER'S TERRIBLE CRIME.

She Shoots Three of Her Children and Forces Another to Drink Carbolic Acid.

FARIBAULT, Minn., Jan. 17.—One of the most shocking tragedies that ever occurred in this county took place yesterday morning at the residence of James McNeil, Jr., near Cannon Lake. Mr. McNeil arose about 5 o'clock and went out into the kitchen to build the fire. Mrs. McNeil slipped out after him and locked the door, then went back into the bedroom, took a revolver from the bureau drawer and shot three of her children.

Mr. McNeil heard the shots and tried to go to the bed room, but could not get in. He then started around the house and went in the front door, and met his wife coming from the kitchen, where she had chased the oldest child and made her take carbolic acid, and took some herself. The little girl evidently struggled very hard with her mother, as her face and hands were covered with the acid. One child was killed instantly, and one died about 10 o'clock. The little boy, three weeks' old, was shot through both lungs, but at last reports was still alive.

The woman and the little girl, to whom she gave the acid, are still alive, and may live. Mrs. McNeil gives as the reason for the terrible deed that she was sick, and had no hope of getting well, and wanted to end her sufferings at once. Mrs. McNeil is the daughter of Mr. Edward Hollister, of Hopkins station, Minn. Dr. Jackson, the attending physician, says that unless inflammation of the stomach sets in the woman and the little girl will probably live.
